

CARROT HYBRID KXPC-122

A long Nantes type Carrot

This long Nantes carrot variety produces very smooth and uniform roots that can be 7 to 8 inches long and about 1 ½ to 1 ¾ inches in diameter.

Early in development roots are slightly tapered but at full maturity can be filled to the tip. Exterior and interior color is dark orange and the core is very small, almost indistinct.

Tops are dark green in color and very strong, reaching 17 to 19 inches in height. KXPC-122 is tolerant to premature bolting, has great taste and has no green shoulders.

This variety has shown some tolerance to Powdery mildew in the field trials in various geographical locations.

Also, KXPC-122 has shown great potential as a bunching carrot but can also be grown for cello-pack.

Markets: Europe, Australia, China, Mexico, South Africa and Central & South America.
